Report back from SMT

- A report on the recent Work Authority inspection will be produced, and a follow-up on the &Frankly survey should be implemented.
- The guest researcher programme with the Taiwanese Ministry of Defence will be continued. A new candidate selection procedure is to be established.
- The China-Asia Security programme will transform into a cross-cluster workstream. It will continue with Fei as researcher, Jingdong as Associate SR, but Lora Saalman will join as SR from the A&D Cluster. This will allow for more capacity and more joint projects. Sibylle and Luc will jointly be involved in workstream and responsible for the line management. The search for a PD will continue.
- SMT discussed a proposal by Jan Eliasson on the topic of 'deficiency of trust in world politics'. He suggested an event on the topic during Spring 2022. SMT supports the idea and a concept note will be drafted.
- A final decision has been taken on the strategic grant proposals. Several projects were carried over from last year and thus had implications on the budget for new projects. The CPS projects covered are:
  - o UNSCR 1325 and peace operations: The next 20 years
  - o Annual Fact Sheet for Women's participation in peace operations
  - o China's interest and role in post-withdrawal Afghan reconstruction and peacebuilding
  - o Governance and long-term planning in the MENA region: Yemen, Syria, and Libya
  - o Dialogue in the Gulf Region (collaboration with Climate Risk)
  - o Dialogue activities on the Korean Peninsula

Staff updates

- Dr Ahmed Morsy will join SIPRI as MENA Senior Researcher on 1 March.
- Dylan will be leaving the position of Programme Director by the end of March. He will remain connected with SIPRI as Associate Senior Researcher.
- Issaka will not join SIPRI in Solna as Programme Director as initially planned, but will instead remain connected with SIPRI as Associate Senior Researcher. He will leave his current position at the end of January.

Corona state of affairs

- The effects of the pandemic on SIPRI's social life were looked at more closely in the beginning of the pandemic, but needs to be given attention still. If there are opportunities for teams or other constellations of colleagues to arrange social events that are still safe, this is welcomed. Any suggestions or examples of ways to do these types of get-togethers are welcome.
