- There will be a Saudi Diplomatic Training Course taking place this week from Monday to Friday.
- SIPRI is hosting a DPRK–European Union Dialogue ‘Northeast Asia security trends under Trump 2.0’ today and tomorrow at Steninge.

Operations

- Kristina and Clarisa will have a meeting with a Radon expert from SIPRI's occupational health and safety provider later today (Monday). We hope we will be able to share more details about the next steps after that, and we hope to be able to invite this expert to come and talk directly to SIPRI staff about risks and mitigation measures.
Again, we would like to stress that if you feel worried just let us know, there are still rooms available in other parts of the building if you would like to change office room, and if you would like some other kind of support, you are more than welcome to approach HR or Kristina directly at any time.

Outreach

- The final celebration count for the MILEX data launch resulted in over 6300 global media outlets, we will share a media report with all of you shortly!
- As of today, we directly start with the preparations for the Multilateral Peace Operations data launch to be happening on Monday 26 May followed by the Yearbook launch on Monday 16 June.
- Thank you to everyone for the flexibility regarding the room situation this week! All who await further information ahead of the Forum will hear from the Forum team this week!
